

Saratoga Grand Jury Indictments Watched For Trial of Tipsters

Special Assistant Attorney General Says He Will Take Cases to Trial "Within a Month" if Indictments Obtain.

SUSPECTS LOCATED

Sloan, of Racing Commission, Says State Tracks are Free of Fixed Races.

Ballston Spa, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—Sharon J. Mahe, special assistant attorney general, today promised trial "within a month" if the Saratoga county grand jury hands down indictments in connection with New York state's investigation into fake racetrack tipster services.

"We plan to waste no time getting a trial started if any indictments are obtained," he said. "Criminal cases never improve with age."

Mahe, who is aiding Thomas F. Ward, Jr., special investigator of the attorney general's anti-racket bureau, has said he expects at least five indictments.

He intimated today that his department knows where it can quickly apprehend the men whom they seek to indict.

The trial would be in the Saratoga county courthouse here, where the grand jury has been hearing testimony for two weeks.

John Sloan, one of three members of the racing commission, told interviewers before entering the jury room that New York state is "free" of fixed races, as far as he and the commission know.

"It is generally known by men close to racing that there is no such thing as fixed races at New York state tracks," he said. "The entire industry is clear of fixed races, as far as I know."

Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the commission, made a similar statement last week when he testified.

Sloan said his recent statement that gangsters frequent race tracks "still stands."

"The charges are true regardless of what any one else has said on the matter," he declared.

Sloan said he did not know how broad the present inquiry is.

Meanwhile, Ward summoned William Morris, secretary of the Saratoga Racing Association, to appear before the grand jury tomorrow and George H. Bull, president, early next week.

Also appearing before the grand jury today as it resumed deliberations after a week's adjournment were Horace Mann, a complainant against tipster services, and two investigators of the anti-racket bureau.

Mann, before entering the jury room, told interviewers that he had received only one winner from tipsters after subscribing to various services for several months.

Sloan was asked to appear before the grand jury after he said recently that persons attending race meets needed protection from gangsters and other objectionable characters. He declared such persons flocked in the various tracks.

Ward said the investigation in this county, home of the famous Saratoga track, probably will not be concluded until the middle of next week.

Strike Call Issued
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—A strike call was issued to WPA workers today after endorsement of a strike resolution at a mass meeting sponsored by the central trades and labor council. Although some 900 workers previously had failed to report on WPA jobs, a strike was not openly acknowledged until the mass meeting last night at which more than 200 WPA workers approved the resolution. The resolution declared that the standard of living "established through long years of struggle on the part of American workers should not be destroyed by the WPA wage scale." WPA officials asked for police protection after strike sympathizers stoned workmen at Monroe Falls.

Opinion on Parity
London, Nov. 7 (AP)—A belief that the United States and Great Britain would agree to continue their naval parity, no matter what happens at the forthcoming apparently ill-fated naval conference, was expressed today in authoritative quarters. Indications that the two powers already may be in general accord for continued equality, as the result of preliminary talks held in recent months, came from these sources. Feindtism revealed, however, that any other very substantial agreements would result from the conference of naval powers, already postponed from December 2 to December 5—an attitude attributed to the summer-international situation.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The position of the treasury on November 6 was: Receipts, $28,266,561.46; expenditures, $10,459,840.57; balance, $17,806,720.89.

Hull's Speech Accepted as Ruling Out This Nation's Participation in Boycott, But Suggestion for Greater Cooperation Regarded as Definite Contribution to Peace—Italians Hold Strategic Ridges All Along Ethiopian Front.

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—The strong position of the United States in the oil industry today was looked upon in government and oil circles as damaging to the chances for success of an oil embargo against Italy.

The Geneva action for the oil embargo made it conditional on the cooperation of states not enrolled in the League of Nations, and yesterday's speech by Cordell Hull, American secretary of state, is accepted here as ruling out this nation's participation in the embargo.

The only other way such an embargo could be imposed would be by agreement of private companies. It was learned unofficially the British government has approached neither the United States government nor American oil companies in the matter.

British oil companies are keeping in close touch with the board of trade, but only for exchange of views, it was said, as no isolated action is contemplated.

Hull's suggestion for greater cooperation of the United States with other governments was, however, regarded as a definite contribution to good will and peace.

Hull's speech, prominently displayed in all newspapers, was read with sympathetic interest in government quarters, which, however, abstained from comment.

Fate of 6 Persons Remains Mystery

Fairbanks, Alaska, Nov. 7 (AP)—The fate of six persons aboard a missing airliner remained a mystery today while searching planes remained on the ground in the face of a snowstorm and conflicting reports concerning the aerial party.

Two reports said Pilot Jack Herman and his five passengers, unreported since leaving Dawson, Y. T., last Saturday, were safe at Eagle, Alaska, while a third brought information that the party was not there.

Word that the six passengers were safe was flashed by the Pacific Alaska Airways radio at Whitehorse.

Soon afterward, the Fairbanks Newsmen announced direct telegraph and radio phone communication with Eagle brought only denials that the six men were safe.

OVER SCORE OF COMMUNITIES SWING OVER TO WET COLUMN.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—More than a score of communities in traditionally dry sections of southern and western New York swung into the wet column in Tuesday's New York state election.

Incomplete and scattered returns today showed that at least 21 communities voted wet on local option questions while approximately 15 voted against sale of liquor or beer.

In Wyoming county where five towns voted dry by two to one majority, one community, Weatherfield, decided to permit sales by hotel keepers. The community has no hotel but the vote will enable the town to receive its share of beer tax money.

A tie vote, 554 to 554, was recorded in Unadilla, Otsego county. The vote lost in Riga, birthplace of the W. C. T. U.

Republicans Carry New Jersey.
Newark, N. J., Nov. 7 (AP)—In spite of the record Democratic vote avalanche in Mayor Frank Hague's bailiwick, Hudson county, the Republican party carried New Jersey in Tuesday's election by an unofficial plurality of 17,569.

Figures tabulated by The Associated Press on the basis of the high man Assembly vote in each of the state's 21 counties showed that the Republicans received a popular statewide vote of 604,889, compared with 587,320 for the Democrats.

In the presidential election of 1932 Franklin D. Roosevelt was given a margin of 30,988. The total Democratic-Republican vote was considerably less this year than in 1932. On Tuesday, 1,192,209 members of the two parties voted the polls, while in the presidential election, the total was 1,581,890.

Brightest in Five Years.
Ames, Iowa, Nov. 7 (AP)—Economic charts which record the month-by-month condition of the Iowa farmer reflected today the brightest agricultural prospects that Iowa has seen in five years.

The purchasing power of Iowa farm products has reached "parity," the goal of the farm administration. Iowa state College economists reported, Iowa farm income, increased by $80,000,000 in crop benefit payments, has climbed steadily. The mortgage debt was still high, around $900,000,000, but farmers now have cash with which to pay interest and some of the principal. The 1935 corn crop is near normal and the outlook for next year is bright, they said.

Gasoline Increase.
New York, Nov. 7 (AP)—An advance of 4 cents a gallon in wholesale and retail prices of gasoline was announced today by leading refiners, effective in New York state and New England. Socoray Vacuum Oil Co. lifted its wholesale price to 6 1/2 cents a gallon in that territory, with the exception of areas in the western part of New York state. The advance brings the retail price in New York city to 15.55 cents a gallon, exclusive of taxes.

Big Job Ahead
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The government machines that chop paper money up into little bits soon will have one of their biggest jobs to do. The reason is that the treasury is planning to put out a dollar bill of new design. So the old bills, to a total of $255,849,177, will be fed into the machines as fast as they come in. The machines not only chop them, but pour them into pulp, so they can be made into new bills.

Hand-to-Hand Fight.
Italian forces cleaning up the territory around Hauser for resumption of the final drive on Makale today routed hostile Ethiopian hands in a spirited, hand-to-hand encounter.

The Ethiopians, who fled from the close combat after a charge by force African Akahis wielding sabres and bayonets, were reported to have suffered heavy losses.

The Italians themselves, suddenly confronted by the enemy forces during the mop-up operation, lost two native soldiers. Ten Akahis and two Italian officers also were wounded.

In the main advance on Makale, halted for two days by heavy rains and ordered into motion again at dawn, the Italians were moving toward a "deserted city," natives told this correspondent.

Scouts of Ras Haila Selassie Gugsa, former Ethiopian governor of Makale who deserted to the Italians, already had entered the city.

Natives in the advance regions reached by General Ruggero Santilli's blackshirt columns told me that only residents loyal to Gugsa would be found in the important caravan center, about 15 miles south of the front lines.

Approve Ulster County Crossing Eliminations
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—An allotment of $12,246,000 for grade crossing elimination projects in New York state has been approved by President Roosevelt.

Thirty-three projects on the list announced today are on federal-aid highway systems outside municipalities, with an estimated cost of $4,256,000; 18 projects are on secondary roads outside municipalities, $2,202,000; 25 within municipalities, $4,918,000; and five within municipalities, on federal-aid extensions, $870,000.

Among the projects approved are the following in Ulster county: Ulster county (N. Y. C. R. R.)—On Route 9-W, two miles north of Kingston, $170,000; on Route 9-W, nine miles south of Kingston, $175,000.

Between 8-9 Millions For Direct State Relief Foreseen by Officials

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—An immediate allotment of between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 for direct relief in New York state was foreseen here today as an aftermath of a visit by Governor Herbert H. Lehman and members of the state TERA.

Governor Lehman sought the money during a conference with Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief and works progress administrator, yesterday.

The governor said after the visit that he believed an immediate allotment would be made for direct relief in New York state in November.

Frederick I. Daniels, chairman of the state TERA, later said New York was preparing to carry out a larger share of its relief burden after this month.

The state and its communities, he added, are spending between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 a month for relief and the disbursements will continue at approximately the same rate throughout the winter.

He estimated the state has approximately $3,000,000 a month to spend, aside from whatever federal aid might be forthcoming.

The legislature will be asked next January, Daniels said, to make available the $55,000,000 for relief approved by New York's electorate Tuesday.

This, he said, will carry the state until February, 1937.

So far as the federal government is concerned New York city is "technically off direct relief," Daniels said, because the WPA program there is in full swing.

The city and other communities will continue, however, to receive direct relief on the old "40-60" basis with the state reimbursing them for 40 per cent of what they spend.

Daniels said the state's works progress program was slow in getting underway but was "speeding up now."

Accident Investigated.
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—New York Central Railroad officials today investigated an accident which late yesterday sent the observation car of its crack Empire State Express careening into a standing locomotive, injuring 10 passengers, none seriously.

The derailment occurred as the express pulled out of the station, bound for Buffalo. Police said only the fact the car plunged into the engine on an adjoining track prevented it from hurtling from a 30-foot trestle. Six passengers were given first aid at the scene while four others were discharged later from hospitals. Railroad officials refused to comment on the probable cause of the derailment.

Air Force Prediction
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, said today there was a possibility that by 1949 the navy will have an air force adequate to complement a treaty strength navy. Under present ship-building plans, the navy will reach by 1942 the full sea fighting strength permitted by the Washington and London naval treaties. "There is a possibility," King said, "that we will have in 1949 the 1,910 planes we originally intended to build in 1942."

Chandler Takes Kentucky's Governorship In Landslide

HOW OFF-YEAR VOTING RESULTED

Above is a map showing election results in various of the cities and states participating in the off-year voting. Ballots in the Kentucky gubernatorial election had not been counted when the map was compiled. Melvin C. Eaton, Republican state chairman of New York, saw a mortal blow dealt the New Deal by election of a Republican majority in the state legislature. Although New Jersey Republicans increased their power in the legislature, the fact that Hudson county, strongest in the state, gave overwhelming backing to forces of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, was believed by Democrats to mean that New Jersey will be for the New Deal in 1936. Justice Schirick and Judge Bergan Elected To the Supreme Court

With practically all districts heard from the supreme court justice race in the Third Judicial district has developed into a much closer race than had been indicated and apparently both Justice Harry E. Schirick of Kingston and Police Judge Francis Bergan of Albany were elected to the 14 year term by much smaller pluralities than had been forecast.

Justice Schirick of this city, now serving on the bench under appointment of Governor Lehman to fill out the vacancy caused by the elevation of Judge John T. Loughran to the Court of Appeals, leads the field with an apparent plurality of 11,408, with two small districts in the judicial district missing. Judge Bergan appears to have a plurality of 5,782.

The figures in the entire district, which comprises seven counties, with one small district in Greene county still out and one district in Wawar tabulation follows:

County	Schirick	Bergan	Staley	Shirick	Fleming
Albany	12,195	4,440	74,028	28,750	28,750
Rensselaer	2,062	22,350	20,000	20,412	20,412
Columbia	7,096	11,612	7,672	10,752	10,752
Ulster	14,518	21,465	15,539	22,162	22,162
Sullivan	7,284	9,618	8,845	8,845	8,845
Greene	6,423	8,261	8,142	7,727	7,727
Schoharie	4,052	6,501	4,305	5,280	5,280
Totals	141,227	132,440	146,552	124,599	124,599

These final figures show an amazing race on the part of Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley, Albany Republican, in the face of overwhelming odds. It was only the huge pluralities which the dominant Democratic organization of Albany city and county was able to roll up that stayed off a Staley victory in a race that turned out to be much closer than most anticipated.

The tremendous pluralities of 20,000 to 30,000 which had been forecast for the two Democratic nominees dwindled to a scant margin of victory when it is considered that nearly 300,000 persons cast ballots in the seven counties of the district.

Talk among the Republican-Independent-Citizens party leaders in Troy of a recount was heard. Some reports from Troy were that an examination of voting machines might show that inspectors had neglected to tabulate the Staley vote in 40 of the city's 30 districts. According to this report Justice Staley might gain another 2,000. A check and absentee ballots in the entire district might make some reason in the total vote but with the apparent lead of Judge Bergan of over 2,000 there is doubt that a recount would change the result.

In Ulster county, which went Republican by an overwhelming vote all along the line, Harry Bergan of this city led the list with a total of 22,168 and Justice Staley was second with 21,405. Justice Schirick was third with a total of 17,408 and Judge Bergan polled a total of 14,412 votes in the county. In the city alone Mr. Bergan was 1,400 ahead of Justice Schirick, his nearest Democratic opponent.

Margin Over Republican Soars to 51,459 as Votes Pour in From Precincts

Trend Indicates Final Majority Well Over 100,000, a Record for Gubernatorial Race Since Reconstruction Era.

STATE TICKET WINS

Deadly earnestness at Washington over Tuesday's elections gives hint of 1936 Jury.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7 (AP)—Smiling, A. B. (Happy) Chandler, 37-year-old lieutenant governor who fought the state sales tax and supported the New Deal, advanced to the governorship of Kentucky today on a Democratic majority approaching landslide proportions.

His margin over Circuit Judge King Swopes, Republican, who opposed him solely on state issues, soared to 51,459 as returns from 1,544 of the state's 4,219 precincts were tabulated. The vote was Chandler 219,883 and Swopes 168,424. The trend indicated his final majority would be well over 100,000, a record for a gubernatorial race since reconstruction days.

Chandler, who urged a Democratic victory to "assure the re-election of President Roosevelt" in 1936, will be inaugurated at Frankfort next month, succeeding Governor Ruby Laffoon, a Democrat, famous for his "army" of colonels. Laffoon bitterly opposed Chandler but supported Roosevelt.

In their general election Tuesday, Kentuckians also rolled up a sizeable majority for repeal of their state prohibition amendment. With 1,375 precincts counted, the vote was 133,452 for repeal and 105,659 against.

An amendment to authorize the legislature to enact old age pensions was adopted by an overwhelming majority. Returns from 1,332 precincts gave 193,950 for the amendment and 22,495 against.

Kentucky also elected a Democratic General Assembly. The entire Democratic state ticket was elected.

1936 Fury
Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—The deadly earnestness with which each major party is seeking to show the nation that Tuesday's elections were a blow to the other gives a hint of the perhaps unexampled fury with which the great struggle of 1936 will be fought.

Thus early in the game, the high commands are seeking to infuse the pep of optimism into party organizations and to corral those voters who like to be on the winning side.

The parties' statement-makers are crying their conflicting interpretations from the houseposts. Republicans, arguing that the results were a "rebuff" to the New Deal, lay stress on victories in New York and New Jersey Assembly elections, in the Philadelphia mayoralty contest and other fights.

Democrats, disputing these claims, also point in turn to Kentucky, with its triumph for the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, A. B. Chandler.

As against Republican National Chairman Henry F. Fletcher's joyous cry of yesterday that the "boondockers are on their way out," Democratic Chairman James A. Farley did some figuring last night and came out with the prediction that things look good for the President to carry Pennsylvania next year, a thing he failed to do in 1932.

In 1932, Farley said, Roosevelt lost Philadelphia by more than 70,000 votes. This year the Democratic candidate was defeated by only 42,200 votes.

He added that if this picture is representative of the whole state, Mr. Roosevelt "will carry Pennsylvania by several hundred thousand, instead of losing it by 70,000 as he did in 1932."

Accused of "Alibi"
Earlier Melvin C. Eaton, chairman of the New York state Republican committee, had accused Farley of trying to "blame the loss of Pennsylvania on the loss of the New Jersey Assembly vote."

Eaton said comparative figures showed a decrease of 40,000 votes in the Democratic majority as compared with 1934 and insisted the result was a defeat for the New Deal.

Three post-mortem statements are part of a campaign battle in which few lulls are expected between now and November 10.

Already general charges are being hurled forward to other battles which will provide the next broad lists of the voters' sentiment and perhaps indicate the G. O. P. presidential choice. These are the presidential primaries, which are scheduled to be held in various states.

80th Anniversary of Port Ewen Methodism

The Port Ewen Methodists will conclude their celebration of the 80th anniversary of the beginning of Methodism in Port Ewen during the week of November 10 to 17. The celebration began on October 4, with a commemoration concert given by the choir of the past, the present and the future. This was on the 42nd anniversary of the first concert given after the installation in 1853 of the organ now in use in the church.

The concluding part of the 80th anniversary celebration begins with the 11 o'clock service on Sunday morning, November 10, when Bishop Francis John McConnell, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of the New York area of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach. At 7:30 p. m. of the same day, a pageant, "Across the Years," will be given under the auspices of the Epworth League. Living pictures of members of the church in years gone by will be shown in the "Church Album," and the concluding episode of the pageant will be "The Church of Tomorrow."

The 80th anniversary banquet will be held in the church house on Tuesday, November 12, at 6:30 p. m. This will be a time of informal fellowship for the members of the church and congregation. Several of the former pastors of the church, with their wives, will be present and will bring greetings. The Rev. Joseph W. Chasey, superintendent of the Kingston district of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will likewise be present and bring greetings from the church at large. Other special guests at the banquet will be the pastors, with their wives, of the Methodist Episcopal Churches in Kingston and vicinity, as well as the Rev. and Mrs. Albert E. Legg, D. D., the parents of the pastor of the Port Ewen Church.

On Thursday evening, November 14, at 7:30 o'clock, the anniversary of the Ladies' Aid Society, the Priscilla Society and the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will be celebrated. The Sunday School anniversary will occur on Sunday morning, November 17, at 11 o'clock. An interesting program will be presented by younger members of the Sunday School, including the Junior Choir, and the address of the morning will be made by Dr. Julian I. Gifford, superintendent of the Sunday School of St. James' Methodist Episcopal Church, Kingston.

The closing service of the anniversary will be held at 7:30 p. m. on Sunday, November 17, when Dr. Raymond Lator Forman, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, New York City, will preach. The pastor of the Port Ewen Church, the Rev. James Thoburn Legg, served as assistant pastor to the Rev. Dr. Forman for three years before taking up his duties in Port Ewen.

The members of the Port Ewen Reformed Church and congregation will unite with their Methodist friends for the morning service on Sunday, November 10, and for the evening service on Sunday, November 17. The anniversary banquet is necessarily limited to the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church and congregation, but everyone is cordially invited to attend all of the other events in the anniversary program.

Events Around The Empire State

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—An appeal by Manning (Manny) Stewi from a 50-year prison sentence for his part in the kidnapping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., was on file with the Appellate Division today.

The brief, drawn up by Stewi, asked a new trial and a reversal of his conviction, chiefly on his identification by young O'Connell which he claimed was "the weakest kind of circumstantial evidence."

O'Connell was held captive 23 days until $40,000 ransom was paid. At the trial the kidnap victim said he saw Stewi from beneath bandages the gang had placed over his eyes.

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP)—An income tax deficiency assessment of $40,821 against William T. McCaffrey, Syracuse, N. Y., banker was upheld yesterday by the tax appeals board.

The board sustained the internal revenue bureau's view that McCaffrey's profit from exercising an option on bank stock should be treated as an ordinary gain rather than a capital gain.

Monticello, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Fine was defeated in her fight for election of town clerk of Bethel, Sullivan county, but she can boast that it took her husband to turn the trick.

Declaring she "needed the job" she ran on the Democratic ticket against her husband, the Republican incumbent. The voters Tuesday decided that "hubby" needed it more than she did and returned him to office.

ALASKA PROJECT IS ATTRACTING MANYApplications Being Received
Daily From the States.

Basin, Wyo.—Colonists on the widely publicized Matanuska project in Alaska now are for the most part well satisfied with their lot, despite rumors to the contrary. Don Irwin, agricultural director, wrote A. W. Koons of Basin, a friend.

Despite wide publicity given some complaints, there are many now in the United States who are eager to take their places. Irwin, former resident of Basin and at one time a member of the Wyoming legislature, revealed that he was receiving dozens of letters in every mail from persons asking to be allowed to take the places of colonists leaving the project.

"Despite the stories being circulated to one here on the ground it would appear that things have gone very well," Irwin wrote. "True, we could have made better progress had the actual construction work been started earlier in the season, as it might well have been. Since it has started, however, it is going forward with a rush."

At the time of writing, Irwin said, 600 men from transient camps in the United States, 200 carpenters and laborers from the towns along the Alaska railroad and 175 colonists were hurrying to complete the houses and get people and live stock under cover before winter set in.

"To date we have either completed or have under construction 107 houses, with 63 yet to build," Irwin said. "I think it safe to say that 25 per cent of the remaining houses will be under construction in the next two days."

"The colonists are working hard, are considerate and expect to stay and make this their home. They are well clothed, well fed, are being supplied with nice homes, furniture, good stoves, sewing machines, power washers and good radios. It isn't pioneering as we think of it."

"To date 25 families have left the colony. Five more are making application to return. Sick leave will develop and it may be necessary for some who would like to make Alaska their home to return to the states."

Demand for Horses Is on Increase in Canada

Ottawa, Ont.—The horse is staging a comeback in Canada.

The Canadian department of agriculture reports that demands for horses from United States breeders and for the use on farms in western Canada has increased the value of the heavy type of horses by 30 per cent in the last two years, giving a great impetus to horse breeding.

In 1931, when the end of prohibition was in sight, exports of horses from Canada to the United States leaped from 672 in 1930 to 6,000, and in 1932 to 6,713.

The trade dropped in 1933 and 1934, but is again being revived by demands for Canadian draft horses from United States breeders. A recent shipment from Lambton county in Ontario brought a price of $250 per head in the United States.

The principal demand, however, is a domestic one. In 1921 there were 3,610,365 horses on Canadian farms. Last year there were only 2,933,480. The drop is explained by the fact that with the advent of tractors and other automotive machinery farmers abandoned horse-breeding.

Now, with farm prices low, farmers are abandoning tractors and again turning to horses. They find it more economical to feed oats to horses than to sell the oats to buy gasoline.

Football Star Becomes
Mighty Alaskan Hunter

San Francisco, Calif.—Herbert Felschacher, who used to be a football player at Stanford university, was telling stories to his friends of his thrilling adventures in Alaska, from where he has just returned.

The stories were almost unbelievable, but Herbert's friends believed them because he showed them some pictures.

With James Flood and Hugh McKenzie, Herbert spent a month hunting in the Alaskan wilds. They had many narrow escapes, he said, from injury or death at the claws of big grizzly bears.

Felschacher had one encounter with a grizzly that might have been fatal but for the marksmanship of his guide, Jack Lena, a famous sordough. The bear charged and the sordough slew it when it was only 20 feet away.

Acrobat Proves His Vocation to Judge

Frankfort-on-Main.—"Accused," said the magistrate to a Rumanian, aged fifty-seven, who appeared before a police court here for being disorderly. "What is your profession?"

"A circus."

"That sounds improbable to me."

The Rumanian promptly threw himself into the air and, clamping the edge of the dock with his hands, pulled his feet above his head. He stood poised on his hands while the judge broke out on the public bench.

The question might be, when that "transmission tax" started operating, whether transactions would continue.

It's lucky we don't hold these fall elections on Saturdays. No, not for the party for football. Lucky for politicians.

Liberia's Constitution

Copies That of the U. S.

Liberia is a republic, one of the three independent negro nations of the world. It had its origins in the efforts of several American and European colonization societies to establish a homeland for liberated slaves.

The first settlement was planted in 1822, and in 1847 the land grants which had been acquired from native chiefs by the colonization societies were constituted as the republic of Liberia. The United States was rather tardy in giving recognition to the new nation, observes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, but it has since several times made the rest of the world understand that it is interested in keeping Liberia independent, or the republic would probably have been swallowed up long since by one of the European powers.

The constitution and government of Liberia are modeled upon those of the United States. There is a congress made up of a senate and a house of representatives, and the executive authority is vested in a president and a cabinet of six. Electors must be of negro blood and owners of land. All of the officers of government are negroes, largely the descendants of American negroes. The official language of the government is English, but only about 50,000 of the population of 1,500,000 or more is considered civilized. The first half dozen presidents of Liberia were all of American birth.

The Word "Maru"

The word Maru originally meant "circle." Its present meaning as applied to ships is obscure to the Japanese themselves. When used as a prefix the word means "full," "complete," "all." But it is used as a suffix to the names of ships, not a prefix. According to Japanese tradition, the use of Maru in ship names dates back to the eighteenth century, when a Japanese nobleman called a pleasure boat "Maru." Some Japanese scholars, among them school teachers of the present day, understand the word Maru to mean "in a state of motion" or "moving." Many Japanese seamen take it to mean "good luck," the word meaning "circle" indicating that the ship will safely sail back to its home port.

Buffalo on White House Site

The first white men to ascend the Potomac river saw specimens of the American bison—the correct name of the humped and shaggy "buffalo"—near the place where the White House stands, observes a writer in the New York Times. If there were so other evidence—and there is plenty—the Elk river flowing from Maryland into the Chesapeake bay indicates by its name that the early settlers saw enough of these animals along its course to name the stream for them.

Mrs. Penn's Epitaph

After Mrs. Penn's death, her husband, the famous William, wrote an epitaph. In it he stated that "she was a Publick as well as a Private town"; that she was an excellent mother, a constant friend, modest and humble, religious, without affectation, an "excellent mistress, good neighbor, especially to the poor, and other virtues he ended it with the sentence, 'Therefore our great Loss though her own Eternal gain.'"

Kingston Elks to Initiate Large Class

Thursday evening, November 14, at 8 o'clock, Kingston Lodge, B. P. O. E., No. 550, will initiate a large class of candidates at the Elks' Home. The class to be initiated is in honor of Joseph T. Fanning, the dean of the past grand exalted rulers—a member of the grand lodge since 1881. Initiation ceremonies will be conducted by Exalted Ruler Joseph S. Ditch and his staff of officers. John M. Cashin, a member of Kingston Lodge and a former officer, will address the newly made Elks in his usual interesting and inspiring manner. A large assemblage of Elks is expected to witness the ritualistic work, after which there will be entertainment and refreshments served.

In connection with the initiation on the 14th of November, a Joseph T. Fanning class will be initiated simultaneously throughout the United States in each of the B. P. O. Elks 1,400 lodge communities. It is estimated that the number of new Elks will total in the neighborhood of 25,000. Grand Exalted Ruler James T. Hallinan of New York is very much pleased with the reports received from the subordinate lodges, and it will be one of the big nights in Elksdom.

It is also planned to have a nationwide hook-up at about the hour of 11, with Elks the hour of recollection, with President Roosevelt, a member of Poughkeepsie Lodge, No. 247, speaking on the occasion. Arrangements are not yet complete as the President is usually averse to making a commitment so far in advance. Of the present plans, as made by the grand lodge activities committee, do not materialize a prominent citizen of the country will broadcast a message pertaining to the event and the order. The program and the time will probably be announced later.

John Paul Jones Never Defeated, Never Wounded

John Paul Jones on the ocean during the American Revolution was as invincible as Washington was on land—never known to be defeated in battle or to have received a wound, states a writer in the Washington Post. He displayed the fierce tenacity of an ancient sea king in skirmishes and also possessed the knightly courage of medieval chivalry. In a day when seamen considered a capacity for picturesque and plentiful profanity as a mark of professional aptitude, he was distinguished by refraining from oath and curses. He was never known to inflict punishment on his seamen by using a "cat of nine tails" or any similar weapon.

He was born at Arbigland, Scotland on July 6, 1747, the son of humble parents. Without encouragement or protection, he, at twelve years, rose in a profession by employing his spare moments in study, readily overcoming disadvantages of education, to appear in a position his own energy advanced him. He embarked on a sea career. Years later he came to America to settle his dead brother's estate in Virginia. When he was twenty-nine years of age, patriotism swept through his veins and he joined the American navy.

He resolved to save the "Thirteen Colonies" whaling in infancy after leaving England's apron strings, from oblivion. He became first lieutenant of the Alfred flagship, and hoisted her flag in 1775.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing Piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Lea has been convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal vein filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefitting by Dr. Lea's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when McBride Drug Stores and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets will show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money back."—Adv.

THE HAPPIEST GIRL IN THE WORLD

STATE OF NEW YORK
COUNTY OF ORANGE
SS:

Thomas Shaw, being duly sworn, deposes and says he resides at No. 307 Liberty Street, Newburgh, New York, and is by occupation a plumber and steamfitter and is the father of Esther Shaw who is seventeen years of age.

That since deponent's daughter, the said Esther Shaw, has been eleven years of age she has been ailing and deponent has caused her to be examined by physicians and specialists without result and her condition had been diagnosed as aneurism.

Deponent's said daughter was in a weakened condition, lacked vitality and energy, did not show a disposition to play with other children, was obliged to stay out of school at various times and was in a generally weak and run-down condition.

Some three or four months ago deponent was informed that Mr. John Melahoures of Newburgh, New York, had a preparation which was good for the blood and which he calls "Mela-Vin" and had heard of other people who had taken the same and had been greatly benefited thereby. Deponent applied to Mr. Melahoures for some of the preparation and Mr. Melahoures very kindly gave deponent some of the preparation in question and deponent gave it to his said daughter for a period of about six months. In about six weeks' time an improvement in his said daughter was noticeable. That before taking the said preparation his said daughter had experienced dizziness and pain in her head at quite frequent intervals, sometimes as often as every three days; after taking the preparation, as aforesaid, this dizziness and the pain became less frequent and severe until they finally disappeared entirely and she advised deponent that she had not experienced such dizzy spells and pain in some time; the color of her skin became improved; her vitality and energy were noticeably improved; her appetite became good; she began gaining in weight and a very noticeable general improvement was manifested. She now appears to be as healthy as the birds and in good health and has stopped taking the preparation.

Deponent further states that at no time did Mr. Melahoures prescribe any medicine for his said daughter nor did he attempt to diagnose her condition or treat her for any ailment, nor did deponent pay him nor did Mr. Melahoures accept any pay for the said preparation.

"Billy" Sunday Dies Of Angina Wednesday

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP).—"Billy" Sunday has exhorted his last convert to "hit the sawdust trail."

The famed baseball-evangelist, the Rev. William Ashley Sunday, died last night at the home of relatives here. He was 72.

His picturesque baseball terminology and acrobatic gestures in preaching the gospel led his friends to term him "the man who saved a million souls."

While many ministers questioned his methods, few ever doubted his sincerity.

"Billy" Sunday's evangelistic career began in 1896 at Gardner, Iowa. In 1903 he was ordained a Presbyterian minister in Chicago.

He was born at Ames, Iowa, November 19, 1863, the son of a Union soldier who died of pneumonia without ever seeing the child.

Rearing in an orphanage, his first job was with an undertaker in Marshalltown, Iowa, where he started his baseball career.

Mrs. Helen (Ma) Sunday was with him when he died. His last words were typically homespun.

"Ma, I've got a dizzy spell."

Then his head turned on the pillow.

"I'm glad he went that way—quickly," Mrs. Sunday said. "Billy always prayed, 'O Lord, when I have to go, please make it quick.'"

There were gloves on his hands when he died, but not the fielder's mitt he loved so well in his younger days and so often used to illustrate his fiery sermons. He asked for the gloves to keep his hands warm.

His death was caused by angina pectoris from which he suffered since 1932, while conducting a campaign in his native Iowa. Another major attack seized him in Chattanooga, Tenn., last May.

He told a congregation here: "I don't want to die—nobody wants to die. But when you hear that I have croaked you can bet your hairpins I put up an awful argument with God to let me stay."

SERVICE OF SACRED MUSIC AT REDEEMER LUTHERAN

Sunday evening, November 10, the vested choir of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wurtis street will present a service of sacred music. The choir numbers 35 voices and is under the direction of Leonard Stine. As a special feature there will be two guests soloists, Harry Dodge, organist, and William Raible, tenor. On the program will be Mendelssohn's motet, "Hear My Prayer," two anthems composed by George C. Martin, and a group of organ solos played by Mr. Dodge. The vocal solo work of the evening will be sung by Miss Eva Clinton and Mr. Raible. The service will begin at 7:45 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

U. S. TREES HEALING SCARS OF LAST WAR

Douglas Fir and the Sitka Spruce Thrive in Europe.

Washington—Again the roll of the war drums is being heard on the other side of the world. In 1918 those drums had been still for ever, so a great many people said. War-torn areas needed healing badly as did the people of the earth.

Americans had thrown their weight into the ending of the war. The healing of wounds was to be a longer process. So, on a January day in 1920, millions of American tree seeds, packed and ready for shipment, were started from historic Boston common on their way to do their part toward healing the scars of earth. They were presented to the consuls of Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Tree association.

These messengers of international good will, after the routine of germination under the watchful eye of foresters, were to find their way as seedlings not only to the battle areas but to the areas where forests had been cut down to meet the demands of war for timber supplies.

Heal War Scars.
Today those Douglas fir and Sitka spruce, millions upon millions of them, which made up the bulk of the first shipment and others that followed in the next four years, are standing in the mothering soil of other countries than their own. Reports received by the American Tree association tell of some of them 15 and 20 feet high and growing better than many native trees. They are thus doing their part admirably in healing the ground scars of the last war.

"Their girls does not bring them into a war market," said Mr. Pack in going over the reports he had received, "but they are doing the job for which they were intended: healing the scars of the last war. Soon they will have grown large enough for commercial use."

"These trees are now standing in France where forests were blasted by shell fire. They are standing in Belgium, too. They are growing in Great Britain where virtually every tree which could be transported was cut down for war needs."

"The British forestry commission reports the growth of the trees and where they are located. They dot the famous lake country in Scotland and areas along the Caledonian canal. They are growing in the forest of Dean in England on the border of North Wales. Other trees are thriving in the King George Jubilee forest in Wales. The forest of Dean is the famous "crown property" and it was this forest which supplied timbers for English ships of war in the old days. The commander of the Spanish Armada was ordered to burn it if he landed in England."

Do Well in Scotland.
"Locations of the plantings in Scotland read like an index of a Sir Walter Scott novel. Some of the trees are at Abeyne, Glengarry, South Laggan and Loch Katrine and dozens of other places. John Munro, the forester at Loch Katrine, reports Sitka spruce of 20 feet in height and Douglas fir nearly as high."

"At Inverness James Fraser of the commission reports the American trees follow the line of the famous valley to Orlich. They are also thriving in many plantings in northern Ireland where the climatic conditions are similar to those where these species grow best in this country."

"The British forestry commission is now checking the plantings as it does every two years. The reports indicate the Sitka spruce has exceeded any European species in growth and the Douglas fir has done almost as well. The seed was gathered in the Pacific Northwest mostly on the coast side of the Cascade range."

Arizona Uses Dogs to Bag 300 Mountain Lions
Prescott, Ariz.—Successful lion hunting, if you believe Glen Gowick, depends on having good "hounds."

Gowick's opinion on anything connected with mountain lions is regarded as gospel in Arizona.

For ten years Gowick has made his living by killing mountain lions, first as a United States biological survey hunter and now as a state-employed predatory game hunter charged with ridding this section of the state of the fierce killers which destroy tens of thousands of dollars worth of live stock each year.

Gowick's pack of "lion dogs" are descended from a hound brought to Arizona 35 years ago by his father. Through successive generations of training, they have lion hunting bred into them.

According to the hunter, he and his pack have killed or captured 300 mountain lions, including a nine-foot male which was believed to be the largest ever killed in the Southwest. This particular lion, he said, was trailed for three days by the dogs before they frightened it into a tree.

STATE'S "FAIR TRADE ACT" DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—New York state's "fair trade act," a phase of New Deal legislation, was branded as unconstitutional in Supreme court today during a hearing on a nationally known publishing firm's suit to halt the "cut price" sale of books by R. H. Macy and Co. Manhattan department store.

Under the year-old fair trade act, Macy's is bound by a contract in which it is not a party. It was contended by counsel for the store.

Doubleday, Doran and Company, Inc., publishers, and Doubleday, Doran Book Shops, Inc., under contract with its parent corporation to sell books at a fixed price, asked Justice Chase to enjoin Macy's from selling these books at lower prices, contending that under the fair trade act the practice is "unfair competition."

The test suit will eventually be taken to the United States Supreme court, it was announced by Morris L. Ernst, counsel for the publishers.

The fair trade act provides that a producer may enter into a contract with a retailer, establishing prices for the retail sale of trademarked articles, and that if a third retailer sells those articles at cut price he may be sued by any injured party.

Justice Chase reserved decision.

Workers Clear 'Path' For Florida Canal

Ocala, Fla. (AP)—Driving ahead at top speed, relief workers are quickly clearing the way for the huge Gulf-Atlantic ship canal across Florida—the largest waterway undertaken by the United States since the Panama Canal.

Within a few weeks relief workers drafted at war-time speed have cleared a considerable portion of the way and laid preliminary plans for the tall bridges to span the $144,000,000 waterway. Contracts have been let for excavation work on a 14-mile strip of the route and the war department engineers estimate more than 5,000 persons will be employed on the entire project soon.

Lieut. Col. Brehon Somervell, army engineer in charge of the work, said he could work more than 25,000 persons if given sufficient funds to continue working at top speed. President Roosevelt made an initial allotment of $5,000,000 in September.

Opposition Met
A small wooded spot near here has been converted into a bustling little city where canal operations are directed. The beginning of work has brought a business boom to Ocala, city of 8,000 persons.

Determined opposition to the project has come from a group of central and south Florida farmers and growers, who see in it a live danger to their water supply.

Recently the Central Florida Conservation association of Sanford has led the anti-canal fight, claiming it would be nothing more than a great "drainage ditch" which would draw off underground water and contaminate what is left by allowing sea water to seep into the ground.

Members claim ruined farms and groves would be too great a price to pay for the two and one-half days sailing time proponents say the canal would save between Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Idea of Philip II
Sidney Paige, government geologist, declares the damage would be confined to a narrow strip along the right-of-way. Lieut. Col. Somervell promises every effort will be made to prevent any water trouble.

Back in the 16th century Philip II of Spain first conceived the idea of an artificial waterway across the Florida peninsula to save ships a voyage around the Florida Keys, then infested with pirates.

Most of the canal route is along natural streams, many of which must be deepened.

From the Atlantic ocean ships would enter the canal at the mouth of the St. John's river near Jacksonville. They would follow the river to a point just south of Palatka.

From there the waterway would be cut westward across land to the Oklawaha river. More digging would be required to join the Oklawaha and Withlacoochee rivers. The canal would follow the Withlacoochee to the Gulf.

The sea-level canal, 30 feet deep and with a bottom width of 200 feet across land, will be 200 miles long.

Relief workers, under direction of Lieut. Col. Brehon Somervell, army engineer, are speeding work of clearing a "path" for the new Gulf-Atlantic canal in Florida. The picture shows clearing crews at work and the map traces the 200-mile canal.

Eligible List Filed With Police Board

The Municipal Civil Service Commission held its regular monthly meeting last night at the city hall at which time the board marked the elimination papers of the recent election held to make up an eligible list to submit to the police board. There is one vacancy in the police department caused by the resignation of Arthur J. Dempsey as a patrolman. The police board recently asked the civil service board for an eligible list from which an appointment could be made at the meeting in November.

It is understood that the three names that head the list submitted to the police board are those of Robert F. Murphy of 177 Haabrouck avenue, Lemuel Howard, Jr., 350 Washington avenue, and Harold Coons of 133 Albany avenue.

English Doctor Tells Of Taking Five Lives

London, Nov. 7 (AP)—An unidentified English doctor has admitted, the Daily Mail said today, taking the lives of five private patients whom he could not cure.

In what the newspaper called the doctor's "confession," the medical man declared: "I've taken life on five different occasions. My conscience never pricked me. I still carry with me memories of those cases and the happy faces before they died."

The interview with the doctor, described by the Mail as a "kindly faced elderly family doctor," used as an argument for formation of the proposed voluntary Euthanasia Society, designed to allow patients suffering from incurable diseases "the right to die."

The doctor said, the newspaper reported: "I've broken the law and circumstances being similar I'd do it again. * * * If need be I'm prepared to face any tribunal in the land—my justification is not my excuse for what I've done is, humanity knows, unlawful."

In many of these primaries, voters select delegates to national conventions, either pledged to certain presidential candidates, or unpledged. In some the vote is cast for presidential candidates direct, delegates being selected later.

The importance of these tests will depend on the number of active candidates. In some presidential years, the candidates have entered virtually all primaries, while sometimes these tests have been shunned.

Value of Health
It means that you will be in good spirits.
It means that you will be able to enjoy life.
It means that you will be an efficient worker.
It means that you can earn more money.
It means that you will have fewer accidents.
It means that you will have doctor's bills.

A tightwad coal salesman sent his wife a check for a million kisses as a birthday present. He was considerably upset when he received the following letter a few days later:

"Dear Jim: I can't begin to express my appreciation of the check you sent me on my birthday. I presented it to the milkman this morning and he cashed it. Lovingly yours, Edith."

Wife—You're going to drive me out of my mind!
Hubby—That ain't no drive, my dear—that's a putt.

When you butt into a conversation just in time to hear someone say: "Well, that's just the way I feel about it," you can bet your wrist watch that somebody has been told plenty.

Suitor—I wish to marry your daughter, sir?
Father—Do you drink, young man?
Suitor—Thanks a lot, but let's settle this other thing first.

That bright fellow who said: "Don't let a fool kiss you," also chortled a classic when he chirped: "And don't let a kiss fool you."

Farmer's wife—If you can't sleep, count sheep.

Farmer—I did that last night. I counted ten thousand sheep and put them in cars and shipped them to the city. By the time I'd figured up my losses it was time to get up and milk and feed the cows!

During the wedding the bride carries roses—Afterwards the coal scuttle and the mop.

Miss Updatore—Now that we have finished this dance let's go out on the porch and enjoy a little tete-a-tete.

Country Youth—No, thank you. I've already had four drinks of good corn liquor, and I always make it a rule never to mix drinks.

The agent's interest in you wanes as soon as he collects his commission.

Mary—Did he threaten you when he kissed you?
Jane—Yes, he said if I screamed he wouldn't kiss me again.

Correct this sentence: "She is a wonderful cook," said the lady; "but if ever she gives me any impudence, out she goes right then."

Grandson—How old are you, grandfather?
Grandfather (feebly)—One hundred and one, my dear.
Grandson—Don't be a tease, grandfather! That's not an age. It's a temperature.

In these days, if you want to create any kind of an impression, you will have to hand out something more substantial than lip service intended only for your benefit.

Teacher—Junior Simpson, have you any good reason for being late this morning?
Junior—Yes—we had waffles and syrup for breakfast.

Two things necessary to make a movie star:
A campaign of publicity.
A flock of morons to swallow it.

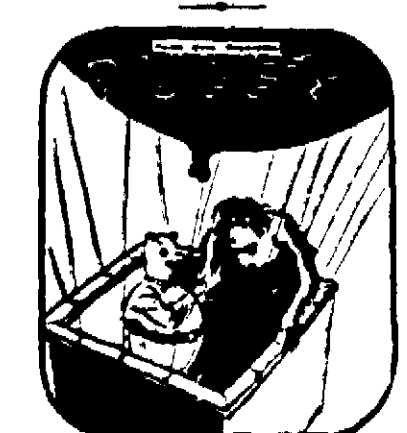

If machines make this a great civilization, the great are the machine builders—not the button pushers.

Elderly Gentleman—Here, what is the argument?
One of the Young Rascals—There's no argument, sir. We are in complete agreement. Billy thinks I am going to give him half of this apple—and I think the same.

Father says every day he lives he appreciates more that time in life when one was too young to be blamed.

Put things very hard, on his face there's a frown.

HEM AND AMY

By Frank H. Beck.

POLITICS at Random

THE political aspects of the unemployment problem are so numerous and so crucial that it is no wonder party leaders find even the most complicated statistics on that subject thoroughly fascinating.

One of the most widely-accepted assumptions about 1936 is that the economic situation of the country—the degree of recovery—will have a most important effect in the election. Just now the one really difficult factor in that situation is unemployment.

Industrial activity manifestly is picking up. Credit is expanding. Agriculture is finding less to complain about, and values are better. All along the line, the economic indices—all except one—point toward improvement.

No completely reliable figures are available, but all sources of economic information agree that unemployment has failed to keep pace with the general trend of recovery. Some even question whether there has been any real expansion of employment at all in the last year.

Without such an expansion, real and recognizable, political arguments that the depression is over run into immediate difficulty.

THAT, however, is only a part of the story. Another prime topic of political discussion is the spending program of the Roosevelt administration. With that, too, the unemployment situation is linked directly.

So long as a disproportionate percentage of workers remain jobless, relief demands on the treasury will be heavy. Even if the administration does not ask for large appropriations, it is certain that the states and municipalities, working through their representatives in congress, will initiate and vigorously press such appropriations.

It is plain that Mr. Roosevelt does not desire to enter the 1936 campaign as the advocate of another top-heavy annual deficit, but many of his supporters see only one way out. That is why the works administration is trying so feverishly to save its program from failure. That is why new methods are being considered to boost private pay-rolls.

What these new methods will be is not yet certain. The effort to induce business to move ahead confidently continues, but the results hardly are all that Washington desires. The alternative may be new legislation at the next session of congress for the one purpose of spreading employment.

IT IS the lesson of all past depressions that after substantial recovery has been attained, a residue of excess labor is left behind.

That is due to several causes. Hard times teach employers how to economize, how to combine the functions of employees and make short-cuts in production. In such times labor-saving devices, including improved factory and mill machinery, multiply. Excessive competition in any given industrial field is reduced by the squeezing out of the weakest firms.

After previous American depressions a sufficient quantity of this left-over labor always has been absorbed by the development of new industries. The rise of the automobile industry, for instance, giving work to many hundreds of thousands, undoubtedly had a major part in preserving industrial adjustment during the opening decades of the present century.

No such large-scale development now appears on the horizon, and in its absence administration thought appears to be turning more and more toward the shorter work week as a means of absorbing the surplus. In one form or another, the old controversy over the basic methods of NRA seems sure to repeat itself.

Whatever the legislative or administrative outcome, no one doubts that this controversy will be carried over into the front rank of the political issues of 1936.

Thanksgiving Day program will be given. At this time the refreshments will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Lillie Harcourt, and Egbert Harcourt, Mrs. Rella Thompson, Robert Glenn and Viola Wood. Every member is asked to attend.

It was decided that Mondays at 3:45 p. m. would be the time the tribesmen would have their weekly pow-wow and Robert Flicker and John Morton were selected as a committee to scout around with Mr. Fuller for a suitable council place. Officers elected to guide the newly formed village were: Chief, Robert Flicker; Indian Runner, John Morton; Tom-Tom Beater, Ralph Crothcock; Medicine Man, Jack Ross; Wampum Keeper, Virgil Olsen; Sentinel, Clayton Meyer.

Woman Angler Gets Two Tuna Fish on One Line

Beach Haven, N. J.—Catching two tuna on one line was the angling feat performed here by Mrs. Frances Sherman of Fraser, Pa. One heavy strike told Mrs. Sherman she had a good-size fish on her hook. In the subsequent struggle to get away, the beserk tuna snarled the line around the tail of another victim. Both were hauled into the boat. One weighed 40 and the other 45 pounds.

Woman Angler Gets Two Tuna Fish on One Line

Beach Haven, N. J.—Catching two tuna on one line was the angling feat performed here by Mrs. Frances Sherman of Fraser, Pa. One heavy strike told Mrs. Sherman she had a good-size fish on her hook. In the subsequent struggle to get away, the beserk tuna snarled the line around the tail of another victim. Both were hauled into the boat. One weighed 40 and the other 45 pounds.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Mickey Rooney has a five-year-old wart on his left hand, a shock of tawny-colored hair, and a pug-nosed little face that seems to come to a point at the end of his slightly turned-up nose.

He is the captain of a "midget" football team and has five other athletic teams besides an orchestra to occupy his time when he is not making pictures. Right now he is making two pictures at once, which makes him the busiest 15-year-old in films.

Clarence Brown, the director, sponsors Mickey's teams and buys the uniforms. His football team, known as the "Brownies," is a group of schoolboys about Mickey's age. Mickey plays half-back.

But let him tell about this many-faceted life of his:

"We're playing a game Sunday—'cause me, there's Spencer Tracy. Say, Mr. Tracy, we're playing the Glendale Spartans Sunday. Gonna be there?"

Gave It To 'Em

"Now, football's not dangerous. Well, no more than anything else. You get hurt or you don't. Now, the studio don't care. At least, they never said anything to me about playing—except that time I broke my leg tobogganing, but that was too late. Yeah, that was when I almost lost the part of Puck in 'Midsummer Night's Dream.' Had to play it with my leg in a cast."

"This war? Oh, that's a trademark. The studio barber says he's going to take it off, free, one of these days. But it don't show, in pictures."

Aids 'Frat' Brothers

"How'd I get in pictures? Well, I won a contest for a tough kid. They picked me out as the toughest but I'm really not so tough. I only fight on occasion when I have to—like the times I have to help out one of my fraternity brothers. My fraternity is D. S. N.—that stands for Delta Sigma Nu—an interscholastic high school frat. I go to school here at Metro but I thought I'd join the frat anyway because I might as well have a good time now. I may be too busy to go to college. I want to be a movie director later on. That is my real ambition. Oh, the fight? Well, the last one wasn't a real one—there was a guy trying to rush a frat brother's girl, and he and I went over and told him to have a care."

"Sure, I like girls—but not as well as sports. If I had to choose between 'em, I'd tell all the girls to step in the lake."

"Our orchestra is busted up now, practically. We used to make a little money playing for school dances. Me? The piano—and I conducted sometimes too. Say—I gotta get back to the set—if you can make it, come and see the Brownies play Sunday."

Royal Cap

This "looped" cap, or grey Persian lamo, was one of the stylish articles in the trousseau of Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott, bride of the Duke of Gloucester. It has a small crown of flame-colored velvet finished with a loop that swings down toward the right ear. (Associated Press Photo)

PREVIEWED

Today

Broadway: "The Gay Deception." Just as the title describes, this is a gay tale of a Graustarkian deception, and before the last foot of film has been run, it will occur to almost any audience that here is a grand bit of foolery so well constructed and offered that it becomes a decided hit picture. Francis Lederer, who has been no storm of dramatics in his past performances, finally is handed a role that fits him perfectly for he has the role of a prince who is working as a bellhop in a great American hotel. Into the action comes Frances Dee, a former stenographer richer by an inheritance of $5,000, and Miss Dee is out to make the bright lights brighter. The princely bellboy and the girl become tied up to one another and go through all manner of situations before love triumphs over all. Alive with snappy dialogue, action that pans society snob, and a fine musical score, this show is certain to be the most exciting movie-goer Benita Hume, Alan Mowbray, Lantia Lane, Paul Hurst, Luis Alberni, Barbara Fritchie and Ferdinand Gottschalk are featured. William Wyler directed and the entire production is under the banner of Twentieth Century pictures.

Orpheum: "The Devil is a Woman." Paramount's Marlene Dietrich has a tough time in this production that is taken from the novel, "The Woman and the Puppet," by Pierre Louys. The screen adaptation becomes a series of camera studies of the star for Joseph Von Sternberg directed the vehicle and his famous attention to detail and lighting slows up the action completely. Cesar Romero, Edward Everett Horton and Lionel Atwill are all in the cast but have little to do. "Adventures Knights" is an added feature with Our Gang.

Kingston: "Texas Yodeling Cowboys" on the stage and "This is the Life" on the screen. Doc Schneider's original Texas Cowboys of the NBC network system with such performers as May Lewis, Doc Schneider, Doy O'Dell, May Rainey, Deacon Thomas, Otis Clements, and a host of other entertainers, will be seen on the Kingston stage in a singing, sharp-shooting, comedy presentation that will prove both enjoyable and unusual to local audiences. This is the like brings little Jane Winters in her latest picture, the story of a little celebrity who grows tired of fame and riches and who yearns to be like an ordinary child. Miss Winters performs in satisfactory fashion and the laughs are numerous. John McGuire is in the supporting cast.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same.

Orpheum: "Silk Hat Kid" and "Rainbow Valley." Lew Ayres, who several years ago was the screen's most promising young player, has been relegated to minor roles of late and the opening attraction at the Orpheum is an airy, light-hearted conclusion to a comedy and romance with Mr. Ayres doing his best to make the play attractive. "Rainbow Valley" is the other full-length feature, a study in heaven and earth, methods of justice. The cast is headed by John Wayne.

Kingston: "The Last Days of Pompeii." It will be fairly difficult for those who have read Bulwer-Lytton's novel to realize this RKO Radio picture was adapted from the same story. About the only resemblance in the title but the producers have moulded a mighty drama in the days the waning Roman Empire was cracking up through lax living and general decadence. The play is an elaborate spectacle of pagan gods and goddesses, and the only resemblance to the novel is in the name. The cast of hundreds is featured by Preston Foster, Dorothy Wilson, Alan Hale, Basil Rathbone, John Wood and Louis Calhern.

Rudolph Valentino, the most popular and handsome actor of the silent era, was usually seen in such a way that he years before their time.

Petrie Quintet Concert Friday

The Petrie Quintet will give a concert in Kingston on Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Fair Street Church under the auspices of the church consistory and the Young Married Women's Club of the V. W. C. A. The quintet will use 13 different instruments in various combinations to provide serious, light and humorous music.

Herbert Petrie, manager and leader of the company, was a solo cornetist under John Philip Sousa, and has had years of experience as solo artist and director. The quintet has been playing together for five seasons and has acquired a Polish smoothness which can be attained in no other way.

Sparkling band music, romantic opera selections, lively waltz music, all have their part in a program of unusual interest and charm. One part of the program will also be given over to frank humor and entertaining bits done for the wholesome enjoyment of those who like a laugh with their music.

Season tickets for the series of four Friday evening entertainments are on sale with members of the club and special arrangement has also been made for single admissions at the door. The committee in charge of the concert includes Mrs. Burton Hayes, Mrs. M. Donald Lane, Mrs. Louis K. R. R., Mrs. Clarence Dunham, Mrs. John Strickland, Mrs. Reynolds Carr, Mrs. Joseph Garland, Dr. Frank H. Shroy, Walter Triemper, one and has acquired a Polish smoothness which can be attained in no other way.

The 1935 All-Mantoulin Turkey Show which was held on October 30 and 31, marked the tenth anniversary of this exhibition, which claims the distinction of being the first exclusive turkey show ever to be held in Canada.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

"Are you forty years of age?" Lewis J. Valentine, commissioner of police, inquires on placards in N. M. T. subway trains. Then the boss of all of New York's cops continues: "In over one-half of all the fatalities caused by motor vehicles on our streets, the victims are over forty years of age. The principal causes are: Crossing against traffic lights, crossing not at crossings. When young, one is taught to utilize increasing power. After middle age, one should educate one's self to take care of diminishing power and alertness. Learn to grow old safely and happily." And I'm wondering if all those who read those placards, after leaving the trains, actually wait for the traffic light to change before crossing the street.

The relationship of subways to J. P. Morgan more than likely does not extend beyond securities of operating companies, if that much, since Mr. Morgan is never seen among us sardines. Nevertheless, the fact remains that he is still the heartiest individual taxpayer in Glen Cove, Long Island. His assessment this year is $1,430,000. Martinson, his island estate, is assessed at $955,000. The assessment of his son, Junius S. Morgan, is $226,500 and that of his son's wife, $50,000, while Mrs. Francis T. Penoyer, his daughter, is assessed at $170,000. As a family, however, the Morgans are topped by the Pratts with a total assessment of $5,385,005. Somehow or other, it doesn't seem right to tack on that extra $5.

Still darting here and there, we come upon Miss Bea Gottlieb. She sailed for Europe recently and took with her the hope that she might have a game of golf with none other than His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales. Curiously enough, Miss Gottlieb may have a chance. It may be remembered that three years ago an American girl achieved international fame because of the fact that the prince watched her play and, admiring her swing, arranged for a match. Not only was the match played but the prince was defeated by the American. And that American girl was Miss Bea Gottlieb.

Then there is Mrs. Mabel Bravort Stevens who achieved local fame. She did it by raising eight bunches of muscat grapes on top of an apartment house down in Old Chelsea. To make the garden in which the grapes have grown, ten tons of earth had to be raised 10 floors, which is quite a chore and a bit expensive, too. Mrs. Stevens is an experienced city gardener. When she lived on Beckman place, one year she raised 23 bunches of grapes on the same vines. They were transplanted two years ago. The move didn't do them any good as they refused to bear until this summer. Mrs. Stevens also has a flower garden, and is hoping to grow fruit trees against the brick wall of the building.

Back from a Maine vacation, Irving Rubins told me of a Yankee who reminded him of the tale of the Arkansaw resident who didn't repair his roof because the hole didn't make any difference when it didn't rain and when it did rain, he couldn't fix it. Up at Camden, there is a gentleman who allowed his house to fall into ruin and when it reached such a state it wasn't habitable any longer, he put up a tent in the back yard and is now dwelling in that.

The intersection of Amsterdam avenue and Sixty-second street seems to be a dangerous corner for Detective Thomas Mason of the police narcotic squad. The other night, despite his tramp disguise, he was recognized at that corner as a cop and shot in the hand. Last winter, he probably saved his life by beating the other fellow to the draw and shooting him. A few months earlier, he was stabbed seriously. Nevertheless, in the last few weeks, he and his partner, Charles Leman, have made 22 arrests in that vicinity.

Salesman Quits 5-Year Job as Bullet Buffer

Toledo, Ohio.—"Cap" E. E. Richardson, the most shot-at-and-hit man in Lucas county, had to throw it all over because his insurance company got nervous.

For the last five years Richardson, a police equipment salesman, has been conducting personal demonstrations of his bullet-proof vests, firing away at himself when no one else would take the risk of holding the gun.

The last time "Cap" was shot he had put on the vest of a competitor to prove he wasn't rickety in a tin vest for the sake of comparison with his own.

"That was the worst beating I ever took from a bullet," said Richardson. "It burned and stung my whole left side."

Public Buys Grapes From Historic Vine

London.—More than 300 bunches of grapes, each weighing a pound and a half, were gathered this year from the one hundred and sixty-seventy-year-old vine at Hampton Court palace, which Cardinal Wolsey built and gave to Henry VIII. The grapes usually are sold to the public for $1.25 a pound, plus a small charge for baskets, which are made by the hand.

HEATING your wife can handle ...without soiling her hands

NO NEED to wrestle with a furnace for another winter, or ask your wife to be a fireman. Not when an automatic gas heater—and the gas it uses—are as cheap as they are today. You need not take our word for that. We will gladly survey your home and its heating, supply you with an estimate of the cost, and guarantee that this cost will not be exceeded for the first heating season. We'll go even farther than that, and let you return the heater without cost for installation, as late as next Spring, if you are not completely satisfied.

It isn't too late to do something about your heating for this year. Installation of gas heating is simple, and the final connection takes only a few hours. Be skeptical if you like, but at least you owe it to yourself and your family to get the facts about automatic heating with gas.

This simple, but completely automatic gas heating unit may be set into any good furnace, to make it heat your home cleanly, comfortably, automatically. It costs less to install than any other type of controlled heating.

NEW PATTERN ACCENTS YOUTHFULNESS

You'll look slim, dashing and very 1935—in a frock like this, made from a Marian Martin pattern! And you'll feel a secret glow of pride in the fact that you made it yourself so easily—for practically a song. Note-worthy features are: The softly feminine yet tailored look of the whole frock... the material, an inexpensive cotton in blue and grey check... the trimmings, blue velvet—also inexpensive, and infinitely flattering. You could make up this pattern with equal success in any of the new cotton suitings in check or plaid, or in monotone or printed crepe. An utterly adorable frock! Sizes 12 to 20 and 30 to 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric and 5/8 contrasting.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tut, Tut, Judge
Kingston, N. C.—Police Judge Joe Dawson is having better luck with his hunting this year. He has shot one squirrel and caught another by the tail.

Dawson hunted all last season and hit nothing. At the end of the season he discovered all his shells were blank.

Municipal Managing
Mountain Lakes, N. J.—Lake Arrowhead village offered two swans and a duck to Mountain Lake in exchange for a strip of land separating two lakes in the village. The borough council indicated it would approve the deal.

Lake Arrowhead wants the land so that it can exclude fishermen who park their cars there and drop their lines into the water.

Mountain lakes need swans to keep down vegetation in its own lakes.

A New One
Denver—The judge suspended Mrs. Cora Huddleton's $5 fine for reckless driving—through a plate glass window—when she told this story: "I am a saleswoman for a surgical supply company and was carrying a bottle of ether, using it on the windshield to keep sleet from freezing there. The bottle spilled over and put me to sleep. The crash awakened me."

Colorful Mowls
New York—The octopus, a little fellow with a 24-inch spread sent north from Florida, arrived a vivid grass green.

As Aquarium officials started to put it in its big tank, it turned pure white.

Noting its new surroundings, it became copper-hued.

Finally, somewhat reconciled, it faded to a delicate brown.

Pig Latin
Berkeley, Calif.—Carl Todd, senior from Bedford, Ind., is the champion hog caller of the University of California. He won with his correctly intoned "Who-e-e-e, pig, pig." Other contestants had plenty of range and volume but called "So-o-e-e-e," which, to a pig, means "scram." Judge Prof. W. H. Chandler explained.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Milady sets a smart style pace in Argentine jodhpurs.

Lana Merwin

While much novelty is introduced in new riding habits and accessories, the latest showings indicate a definite tendency to favor tailored lines and harmony design, with a weather eye to the practical side.

Although complete riding habits are high style and much in demand for wear with high boots, the new jodhpurs are strongly stressed and well liked because they extend down to the ankle so that a low shoe or boot may be worn. The Argentine jodhpurs sketched on the figure above are fashioned of heavy brown whip cord. They feature a high, fitted waistline to give added support and an adjustable strap fastens at the left side of the waist. By adding a brown leather jacket for a top garment, one possesses an unusually smart yet practical riding outfit.

The riding shirt, also shown above, is very mannish. It is an imported English model of sea island fabric, featured in many smart shades.

Riding belts, too display many unique buckle ideas that harmonize with the trappings. The two models sketched are of leather, one featuring a bit for the buckle, the other using a silver horseshoe for fastening.

KNOWLEDGE OF ETIQUETTE SAVES MANY EMBARRASSING SITUATIONS

THIS BAD MOMENT IS TACTFULLY PASSED OVER

Poor Gladys! She turns suddenly, and over goes the vase, smashing on the hard table-top and sending flowers and water cascading all around!

Is there anything that makes you feel more awkward than to be guilty of such an accident? Guests and hostess and the unfortunate person who caused the damage are all embarrassed. At moments like this, good manners save needless distress.

The charming, worldly-wise hostess will take the matter casually. She may have the broken pieces removed but will pay as little attention as possible to the whole incident. Gladys will not make the other guests uncomfortable by referring to the accident; but she will replace the vase later, if she can.

No matter how adroit we are, we all occasionally find ourselves in a social predicament. It may not be as spectacular as the overturning of a vase of flowers. We may merely trip over the rug as we enter the room; or knock an old lady's hat askew as we help her into a taxi; or say that we hate rhinestone jewelry and then observe that the hostess is wearing two large rhinestone clips. Whatever the slip, it is best covered up by a simple apology, and then complete disregard of the affair. But one blunder in tact is usually enough to set a guard on our tongue against future mistakes.

A knowledge of etiquette helps us over the awkward moment, so that we and others quickly forget it. It keeps us from feeling flustered about answering that formal invitation from Uncle Harry's swanky friends; it carries us through difficult conversations; it gives us unerring table manners.

The rules of etiquette are really simple. We just need to brush up on them. They are clearly explained in our 40-page Home Institute booklet, ETIQUETTE FOR EVERY DAY, which discusses good manners in public places; the gift of being a charming hostess; graceful manners between girls and men; secrets of popularity and charm; details of table manners.

Amelia Earhart Takes Side of Helen Richey

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7 (AP)—Amelia Earhart and Helen Richey agreed today that Helen—the nation's first woman transport pilot—lost out in commercial aviation because she was a woman.

Miss Richey, who took a job as co-pilot for Central Airlines last January, confirmed that her sex handicapped her in the work and that she resigned more than a month ago.

"I don't want to be drawn into any controversy," she added, however, "because I left Central Airlines in a very friendly spirit."

Miss Earhart, the country's first lady of the air, brought Miss Richey's resignation to public attention in urging creation of a fund to "help woman to gain her proper place in aviation."

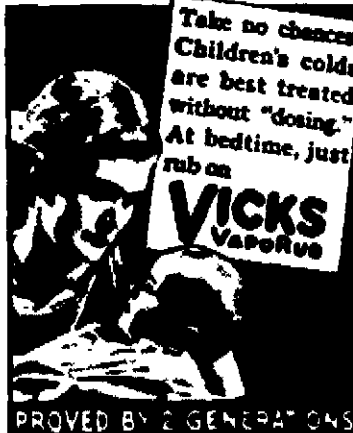

She told how the young McKeesport flyer landed a job as co-pilot on a mail line but "what happened?"

"Well, the pilot's union refused to take her in, not because of lack of ability but because she was a female."

"The result of this action was that the Department of Commerce refused to let her fly passengers in bad weather, so the poor girl could not do her part at all, and had to resign."

Americans find it hard to figure out whether England is more interested in saving Ethiopia or crushing Italy.

Asks Disolution
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—The Niagara Gorge Railroad Company of Niagara Falls, "rubberneck" trolley system, today asked the Public Service Commission to approve its petition for disolution. The road is a double track line of several miles running along the bank of the lower Niagara river at the foot of the precipitous American cliff. The gorge route wants to go out of business because of the constant danger of rock slides crashing down on its open-air, flat-seated cars. Only recently such a slide buried the tracks under tons of dirt and stone but no cars were in operation at the time. New registrations in German automobiles have shown steady declines from 14,000 in the 1933 summer semester to 7,000 in the summer of 1934.

LATE HURRICANE DAMAGE TOLL HIGH

These pictures show how Miami suffered when a late season hurricane struck Florida, swept across the state into the Gulf of Mexico and then started recurling toward shore. At top are yachts jammed together by the winds. Below, daring boys are shown risking their lives to play in the dance hall of the $1,000,000 pier just before giant waves, some 100 feet high, swept the last of the walls out to sea. (Associated Press Photos)

AS 80-MILE WIND LASHED MIAMI

STORM DEBRIS FILLS MIAMI STREETS

A street scene in Miami after the hurricane swept through it, leaving four dead, scores injured, and property damage in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Photo was taken on the county causeway near the Miami Beach entrance. Live wires are strewn over the paving. (Associated Press Photo)

HURRICANE RIPS MIAMI APARTMENT HOUSE

As though split by a butcher's cleaver, this Miami apartment house is shown after the hurricane which killed four, injured scores and inflicted about $1,000,000 worth of property damage. Debris can be seen on the upper floor. (Associated Press Photo)

Announcement was made that the Kingston Hi-Y Council was making plans for the Hi-Y faculty banquet and that more complete announcements would be made soon and the various committees appointed.

PATTERN 5479

A trim little stand-up collar and a row of buttons marching down your chest show the important "military influence" in this smart one-piece knit dress. The V-shaped yoke and bloused sleeves are knit in a combination of ribbing and a lovely lacy stitch, while the rest is, as you see, plain knitting and quickly done. This pattern may also serve for a blouse or three-quarter tunic.

In pattern 5479 you will find complete instructions for making the dress in sizes 16-18 and 38-40; illustrations of it and of all stitches used; material requirements.

Austria Gives Asylum to Man Denied Country

Vienna.—Julius Furachen, "man without a country," hounded over from there, driven back again, forced to live for three days on a bridge between two states, is free again. His story starts with his arrest in Tunisia for begging. He was expelled from America and taken to the Jugoslav border as a citizen of the country.

But the Jugoslav guards took him to the Italian frontier near Sanak. Here Furachen was driven over the frontier bridge into Italian territory. But the Italians locked their gates and back ran Furachen. The Jugoslavians showed their mercy.

So the unfortunate man had to spend three days alone on the bridge until the Italians arrested him and sent him back to Austria.

There on Austria will be won arrested and held before the Vienna courts. He told his story. The judges were merciful and now he is free to live in Austria.

Today's Cable Briefs By Associated Press

Tokyo.—Admiral Osami Nagano, member of the Supreme War Council, today besought the aid of the national gods for support of his mission at the London naval conference, December 2. He departed on a tour of the national shrines and the tombs of emperors in western Japan, especially the grand shrines in the Province of Ise, where the Japanese people worshipped the Sun Goddess Amaterasu, divine ancestors of the race.

Desaye, Ethiopia.—Crown Prince Asfa Wosani started by airplane today for Addis Ababa. When his father, Emperor Haile Selassie, comes to Desaye, probably next week, Asfa Wosani will take over the imperial affairs of the capital.

Genoa, Italy.—Many arrests were made and heavy sentences imposed here today by Italian authorities to stamp out speculation on "defeatist" rumors and suppress a "black bourse." Six men were sentenced to spend five years on Ponza Island, where anti-Fascists are sent.

Athens, Greece.—An official decree was promulgated today, regulating application of economic and financial sanctions against Italy.

Allahabad, India.—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, flying from England to Australia, landed here at 5:25 p. m. local time (7:45 a. m., Eastern Standard Time), today. (The British flier started from Lympne, England, at 6:28 a. m., Greenwich time (1:28 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) Wednesday. Consequently, on his arrival at Allahabad he had covered something over 5,500 miles in 30 hours, 17 minutes.)

Paris.—France will make a start toward business recovery whenever the "monetary uncertainty" and the need for "exceptional military expenditures" are ended, Finance Minister Marcel Reginier told members of the American Club today.

Turin, Italy.—Dressmakers today decided to bar even the ideas of sanctionist countries on how to cut gowns and suggestions for the style in women's hats. The dressmakers' industry, which has its center here, declared for the use of "only Italian artists," and asked the Fascist party for aid in cutting cooperation all through Italy.

Southampton.—Harold Scarborough, former London correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune, was reported to have disappeared overboard this morning from the In-bound S. S. Berengaria off Ryde, Isle of Wight. A passport and a wallet belonging to Scarborough, who was returning from a trip to New York, were found on the deck.

Tokyo.—Clouds of fine volcanic ash drifted down on Tokyo today, partly obscuring the sun, as the result of the year's most violent eruption of the famous Mount Asama, 90 miles to the northwest.

Tampico.—Rafael Munguia Cavazos, former mayor of Matamoros,

Tampico, was taken into custody today as a plane from Brownsville, Texas, in which he was traveling stopped here en route to Mexico City. He was charged with embezzlement of seventy thousand pesos of the public funds.

Rome.—Italian athletes joined today in the nation's boycott against "sanctionist" countries. Fascist party orders cancelled the departure for Paris of four weightlifters from Turin. Hereafter, it was announced, Italians would refuse to compete in countries opposing Italy's war in Ethiopia.

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 2 pints a day and so get rid of more than 2 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

Dr. Van Wagenen Still Picking Flowers

Dr. Harry P. Van Wagenen had a very busy week-end at his summer place at Shokan over the past week-end. Located high above the Ashokan reservoir overlooking the Ashokan reservoir he apparently must be located in an unusually warm and well protected spot for last Sunday Supervisor Van Wagenen, who is a lover of flowers and has a well kept garden at Shokan, picked 10 varieties of flowers from his garden, and unless more severe weather comes soon he expects to again be able to visit his flower gardens over the coming week-end and duplicate last week's act. He reports that thus far frost has not paled his garden a visit.

While enjoying the crisp mountain air at about 5:30 Sunday morning he was startled by a shot very close to his house. The previous evening when he arrived he had seen a large doe and two fawns near his place and the shot attracted his attention immediately. However he failed to see any time later was hailed from outside and a hunter notified him that a large doe deer lay in the field. Dr. Van Wagenen believes that some hunter shot the doe and finding the carcass too close to the cottage for comfort left it and expected to return later to claim it when his presence would not be known. The doe was an exceptionally large one. Dr. Van Wagenen notified the C. C. Camp at Boleville and after a game warden had been called the carcass was turned over to the C. C. men.

PHOENICIA LEGION POST HELD MEETING MONDAY

The American Legion Auxiliary of Phenicia Post, No. 950, held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the Firemen's Hall. The ladies will serve refreshments of sandwiches, cake, coffee and soda at the Armistice dance in the Shandaken Hall on Saturday, November 9. At the close of the business meeting a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed.

Dutch Bee Mart
Holland is world famous for its tulips, hyacinths and other bulbs, and a good many cheeses, but not so many people know that it is also a great industrial center for honey. Once a year, in the market of Veendam, which is the largest in the world, bargaining is done in about 2,000 skeps, or hives of straw, housing about 20,000 bees each. The country people come to the market on bicycles, with a huge skep hanging from each side of the vehicle. In the heavier hives, the bees are killed by sulphur fumes while the honey is being removed.

Value of Punctuality
There is no more desirable business qualification than punctuality, and no other so indispensable to a man of affairs, or to anyone who would save his own time and that of others. Napoleon once invited his marshals to dine with him, but as they did not arrive at the moment appointed, he began to eat without them. They came in just as he was rising from the table. "Gentlemen," said he, "dinner is now over, and we will immediately proceed to business."

Spun glass is the invention of the Venetians.

ULSTER COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE
Kingston, N. Y., November 6, 1935
Notice is hereby given that a panel of Grand and Trial Jurors will be drawn at the office on Saturday, November 16, 1935, at 5:00 A. M., to serve at a Term of Supreme Court to be held in and for the County of Ulster on the 2nd day of December, 1935.

Ancient Memorials Mark Certain Parts of China

Wherever one goes in China he sees evidence that China is an old, very old country. In the heart of Hankow there are tombs and memorials so ancient that the weather of the centuries has worn the stone statues and carvings to smooth surfaces. In the country are disintegrating walls enclosing what were once rich estates and imposing buildings, the ruins of which are overgrown with semi-tropical jungle.

The "coffin houses" along the paths in the hills, where repose the remains of the departed awaiting an auspicious day for burial, are in better condition than are houses of the living. These mausoleums, writes Mason Warner in the Chicago Tribune, are rows of 12 to 20 attached buildings, 10 to 12 feet high, each having one room, with space for either one or two coffins. Sometimes the burial of husband or wife is postponed until the death of the survivor, and that occasions the waiting of one for the other in the coffin house.

For the peace of the departed soul and the good luck of the surviving members of the family, a day when all the elements of nature are in harmony in relation to the departed one must be chosen by a learned geomancer for interment in the earth. That is always difficult, for what would be a lucky day for one son might bring disaster for a corpse to wait five, ten, or twenty years for burial. Very rich families have been known to wait fifty years for the right day.

Lightness and Strength Make Aluminum Popular

Aluminum is used wherever a combination of lightness and strength is desired. The pure metal is highly reactive with various corrosive substances, yet in actual practice it resists corrosion very much better than the theoretically more resistant iron. The reason for this, writes Dr. Thomas M. Beck in the Chicago Tribune, is that aluminum on exposure to the atmosphere forms a microscopically thin, tough, air-tight coating of aluminum rust which gives the underlying metal perfect protection against corrosion. Iron, on the other hand, forms a brittle, porous rust that flakes off and exposes more metal.

Along with the advantage of lightness and rust resistance, pure aluminum has the disadvantage of being relatively soft. For a long time this limited its use to the manufacture of kitchen utensils, sheet aluminum, and similar uses in which it was not subjected to very great strain. However, there have been developed some highly successful aluminum alloys, in which the metal has a strength approaching that of steel, with no sacrifice of lightness. Oddly enough, in the cases of some of the most useful of these alloys the aluminum, in gaining strength, loses much of its resistance to corrosion. This fault, however, can easily be remedied by giving the alloy a thin coating of the pure metal.

A Widow's Name

Emily Post's "Etiquette" says: "A widow no less than a married woman should always continue to use her husband's Christian name, or his name and another initial, engraved on her cards. She is Mrs. John Hunter Tithen-Smith, but she is never Mrs. Sarah Smith; at least, not anywhere in good society. In business and legal matters a woman is necessarily addressed by her own Christian name, because she uses it in her signature. But no one should ever address an envelope, except from a bank or a lawyer's office, 'Mrs. Sarah Smith.' As to the signature, Mrs. Post declares: 'A married woman should always sign her name to a stranger, a bank, business firm, etc., with her baptismal name and add, in parenthesis, her married name.'" for re-election by the Republican candidate, Charles Thielman. Saugerties returned to the Republican fold by sending Robert A. Snyder to the board by a tremendous vote. In Saugerties again there was a three-cornered fight with an independent candidate running. Snyder ran away from Donlon, the Democratic nominee, and was elected by 1,075. Crump, who ran as an independent, polled but a total of 277 votes.

Some Unusual Results In Towns of County

In Shandaken the Republicans had their only loss in a seat now held by them, when Clarence T. Voss was defeated by Clarence T. Andrews in the upper district of the town. Andrews polled a heavy vote in the Pine Hill district and won out.

In Shawangunk Edward Murray of Walker Valley defeated Lester Terwilliger of Wallkill, the present Democratic supervisor, by a total of 83 votes in the town.

Hugh M. Ferguson of Ulster, present Republican supervisor, appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Pratt Bolce, won over his Democratic opponent, to be returned to the board for the full term.

Wawarsing re-elected Tuthill McDowell of Ellenville, the present Democratic supervisor. According to unofficial returns McDowell won out over Fitzgerald by about 121 in the town, of which it was reported 91 majority was given in one of the nine polls, that at Greenfield.

Albert Cashdollar, present supervisor from Woodstock, won out over his Democratic opponent Sherman Short, by 342 votes.

The tabulation for supervisors cannot be made at the local board of elections office since the vote on town officers, including supervisors, need not be filed with the county board of elections but is filed with the town clerks in the respective towns. In several towns where voting machines were in use the tabulations were filed with the county board of elections on the same form as the reports on county and state officers. Where paper ballots are still used the reports were not made to the local board.

In Kingston but two Democratic supervisors were elected, Carl Laicher in the Sixth ward and George M. Cogan in the Thirteenth ward.

The new board on January first will be composed of 26 Republicans and 7 Democratic supervisors. The present board now stands 17 Republicans and 16 Democrats by virtue of the appointment of Matthew Williams of Hurley, Republican, to succeed the late Matthew T. E. DeWitt, Democrat. Prior to the appointment of Mr. Williams the board was Democratic by a vote of 17 to 16.

Whistler in a Hurry
Whistler, the famous artist, once had to move hurriedly from London to Paris, and in the haste forgot to pay his back rent. The agent for the estate lamented his loss, complaining to a friend that all artists were that way, and that all he could find in the empty house were a few pictures, and what value were they? These pictures, forgotten by Whistler, were among his very best and worth a hundred times the forgotten rent.

Roosevelt to Return To Nation's Duties

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—Refreshed by a week's stay at home, President Roosevelt turned back to the White House today with an evening planned in New York city.

He expressed gratification over the large vote in Kentucky for the state enabling act for the new federal social security program about to go into operation.

The Kentucky Democratic victory failed to break the silence that marked Mr. Roosevelt's quiet observation of other state and municipal elections this week. He has kept this rule for years.

In fact, the President disclosed to newspapermen that the troubled foreign situation is giving him more concern just now than domestic affairs, with which he appears content to go ahead on the announced "breathing spell."

Motoring late in the afternoon from the family residence, Mr. Roosevelt planned to drive along the Hudson river to the home at 43 East 65th street in New York. He will dine tonight with officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons in New York. Later he will attend the induction into Masonry of his sons, James and Franklin, Jr.

Then he will board a special train for the overnight ride to the capital.

Gregory was the name of 14 popes and one anti-pope.

JOYCE SCHIRICK POST, V. F. W. ELECTIONS OFFICERS NOVEMBER 14

The regular meeting of Joyce Schirick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been postponed from tonight to Thursday, November 14, at which time there will be nomination and election of officers. Commander John L. Green states that the postponement is due to the fact that by next week there will be a more definite report ready on the drive which the veterans have been making throughout the city for their building fund. They are hoping for a generous response to the drive and an encouraging report at the meeting November 14.

At a meeting of the staff of the Veterans Memorial Hospital, held at the Wayside Inn, Ellenville, Wednesday evening, Dr. Mark O'Meara read a paper on "Modern Treatment of Cancer."

those adhering to Emperor Haile Selassie to Amba Alaja, 40 miles south of Makale, the natives said, after a "bloody battle" between followers of Gugaa and the Ethiopian Loyalists.

My informants said the great Ethiopian army was being organized by Ras Kassa, one of the principal Ethiopian chieftains in the north, and Ras Mulugheta, Emperor Haile Selassie's veteran minister of war.

To Stay Out of Makale.

Ethiopians said they intended to stay out of Makale until they learned the intentions of the Italians, and particularly those of Gugaa, Italian-appointed Ras of the newly-conquered territory of Tigré province.

"Are you content in letting the Italians invade your territory?" asked one of the natives.

"We don't know what to say," he replied. "We believe the Negus (emperor) made an agreement with the Italians to take this territory peacefully so that they would not take more."

Not until the Italians passed Makale and approached Amba Alaja on a drive deeper into Ethiopia to force the entire empire into submission, the native said, could there be serious opposition to the Fascist forces.

"Ras Kassa has many soldiers at Amba Alaja," he said, "so many they cannot be counted. Also Mulugheta has a great army there."

Downtown Store Will Not Be Discontinued

Stories being circulated to the effect that the J. Richard Shultz paint store on East Strand and Hasbrouck avenue is to be discontinued are untrue. Mr. Shultz told a reporter today that he intends to continue his business downtown and has no thought of removing to the uptown district entirely.

The Shultz paint agency for Sherwin Williams products has a store uptown, one of the most modern and up-to-date paint establishments in this vicinity, but even with the facilities for catering to his large trade, Mr. Shultz considers that the store on East Strand is vitally necessary to take care of his downtown business.

The store downtown is where Mr. Shultz started back in 1928. He took over the established paint business of the McMillan concern, and developed it to the extent that another store was necessary. So he opened one uptown on North Front street. His present location on this street is at No. 35 and 37.

Ship Models, Oars and Anchors Are in Churches

Ship models have been presented to cathedrals and churches for many centuries, and this old custom was revived when a model of the Mary Rose, a vessel with a notable war record, was hung in Portsmouth cathedral.

Then a large model of a lifeboat hangs from the ceiling of the parish church at South Shields, to commemorate the fact that the first lifeboat was built and launched at that town in 1780. Another model lifeboat has been placed in Southwold church.

Gifts of ship models are not confined to Christian churches. They are to be found also in many shrines and temples on the coast of Japan. There they take the form of models of the picturesque Japanese fishing craft. Japanese fishermen also sometimes present anchors and oars to the temples where they worship.

Unlike the shy Cowbird, the Migrant Shrike is frank in his ways. He will catch a large beetle, grasshopper, field mouse, or even a small songbird, and hang it on a sharp thorn of a haw or other thorn tree where the world may see his cruelty. His habit of hanging up his prey has won him the common name of Butcher Bird.

Hurricane Expected.

New Orleans, Nov. 7 (AP)—Hurricane winds, which caused eight deaths on Florida's east coast, early tonight was expected to lash that state's coastline east of Pensacola. At 8:30 a. m. central standard time, the New Orleans weather Bureau issued an advisory saying the disturbance, of small area, was 150 miles slightly east of south of Pensacola and moving apparently north north-eastward. "If present tendency continues," the report read, "the center will cross the coast early tonight east of Pensacola, possibly near Apalachicola, attended by gales which may be dangerous over very small area near center." However, there was slight evidence of the approach of the disturbance along the western Florida and Alabama coast lines.

Ferris Wheel "Big Show" at Columbian Exposition

The Ferris wheel was invented by George W. G. Ferris, an American engineer and steel bridge builder. His imagination was fired when Daniel H. Burnham, chief of construction for the World's Columbian exposition in Chicago in 1893, challenged the civil engineers of America to design something novel and unusual to rival the Eiffel Tower at the Paris exposition in 1889. Ferris conceived the idea of constructing a gigantic revolving wheel on which to carry people into the air for amusement. His friends and business associates advised him against its construction. The country was in the midst of a business depression and financing the undertaking was a difficult task. Even those in charge of the exposition at first regarded the scheme as fantastic and waited several months before granting Ferris the concession. With the result that the fair had opened when the wheel was completed. It proved to be the chief attraction at the exposition and a profitable investment. Engineers from all over the world admired the daring of its design and the perfection of its construction. The wheel was 250 feet in diameter, 825 in circumference and 30 in width. It was equipped with 35 cars, each with a seating capacity of 40 persons each.

Origin of Lighthouses

The earliest lighthouses of which records exist were the towers built by the Libyans and Cuchites in Lower Egypt, beacon fires being maintained in some of them by priests. Leaches, a Greek poet (600 B. C.) mentions a lighthouse at Sigeum, now Cape Inch-sari, in the Troad, which appears to have been the first light regularly maintained for mariners. The famous Pharos of Alexandria was regarded as one of the wonders of the world. The tower is stated to have been 600 feet in height. It was destroyed by earthquake in the Thirteenth century, but remains are said to have been visible as late as 1350. The name Pharos became the general term for all lighthouses, and the term pharology has been used for the science of lighthouse construction.

Carbon Monoxide

Carbon monoxide is composed of 12 parts, by weight, of carbon to 16 of oxygen. It is a colorless, odorless gas, a product of the incomplete combustion of carbon. It is an abundant constituent of water gas, and burns with a pale blue flame, forming carbon dioxide. It is very poisonous, since it combines with the hemoglobin of the blood, expelling oxygen, and its presence in the exhaust gases from internal-combustion engines, in the gases from the detonation of explosives and so on, has caused many fatalities. Carbon monoxide is slightly lighter than air, 28 grams equaling in volume 29 grams of air. Carbon monoxide in a room will diffuse with the air until the percentage of one equals the percentage of the other.

Easy Going Chimpanzees

Life for the chimpanzee in his native wild state is too easy for him to make it necessary for him to exercise his rather superior intellectual equipment. The apes find food and water in great abundance. Their diet agrees with them perfectly. An occasional cold and possibly some skin trouble seems to be the sum of their ailments. Even the play of the wild chimpanzee does not include the ingenious "monkey-shines" so characteristic of the animal in captivity. In the bush, this activity is mostly running, jumping, play-fighting and similar exercise.

Kingston Quintet Trowned By Jersey City Reds, 40-22

Kingston tasted defeat for the third time in a row Wednesday night when they failed to stop the Jersey City Reds from running through rough shod over them at the Municipal Auditorium, 40-22, before more than 1,900 fans who turned out to see the inaugural of the American Basketball League here.

Mayor Conrad J. Hoeselmann started the proceedings by tossing up the first ball for the opening of the league, but the basketballers failed to carry on the glorification by letting the Reds get off to a lead in the first period and continue in the van for the rest of the game.

Kingston just couldn't click. Their plays went flaky time after time and their spirit went low, bringing about disorganized play which is a big drawback in any game. Then, too, they were off on their shots, missing 27 from the field, and five from the complimentary line.

Even Moe Spahn, this year's sure shot of the Cities Service brigade missed six times from the floor and twice from the foul line. Frank Shimek took nine tries at the basket in the first and second period and missed 'em all.

Captain Carlie Husta, with seven points on three fields and a foul, and Corky Stanton, with six on one from the floor and four free ones, did the bulk of Kingston's scoring.

Pauline Adamo with 15, and Hymie Frankel with 12, led the Jersey Reds. Adamo, who didn't get going until the second frame, made seven points in that frame and as many in the third. The whole Kingston team made only eight in each one of these periods.

Prior to last night the Kingstonians lost to the Spartans and the New York Jewels at Brooklyn.

Adamo Starts It.

Adamo tossed in a foul, Spahn a field, Scrill and Husta tallied from the complimentary line and then Frankel came through with two spectacular tosses from scrimmage to put the Reds out in front 6-2.

Lennon made good on a free throw and Stanton converted two, tying the score at 6-4.

Adamo got a chance to toss from the free throw line, but missed. Benson tore in to take possession of the ball and score from the field. Then the big center got the ball again and arched one from the center of the court to put the Reds up ahead 10-6 as the period ended. From this point on the visitors stayed out in front.

Scrill opened the second period with a foul and field making the tally 13-6 in favor of the Jersey team. Frankel grabbed the ball on a bad pass to Scrill and sank one. Husta capped a long one and the fans cheered wildly. He took a pass from Spahn and cut the cords again. Then Stanton made a neat one-handed shot from the vicinity of the foul line and it looked like Kingston had found itself.

But nothing came of this little rally. Adamo cut for the basket and put one in for the Reds. Both clubs ran wildly taking shots from all angles, but neither scored. Referee Solodard found it hard to keep up with the pace the cagers set and once found himself sliding along the floor in a manner that did his white trousers no good.

Stanton fouled in the burst of speed and made good on the throw. Frankel sunk a beaut from the field and the score stood 19-13 in favor of the Jerseys. Spahn left the game and "Horse" Meyers took his place. He came through with a foul during his short time in the fray. Adamo and Frankel combined their shots to boost the Reds' tally to 27 and the period ended with Kingston on the short end of the 27-14 standing.

Talk Falls To Help.

During the intermission Pop Morgenweck tried to shake his boys up with a verbal lambasting, but the dressing room talk did no good. They came back and were as disorganized, if not worse, than they were in the second period.

Hank Kuriyka jumped center in the closing stanza in place of Lennon and Meyers played instead of Shimek. Kingston made eight points in this frame in comparison to 13 registered by the Reds.

Scrill started off the proceedings for the Reds with a foul. Husta missed a shot and Spahn grabbed the ball but in a moment of confusion passed it to Scrill who sunk it for two points. Kuriyka made a foul for the Morgenwecks and the score board showed 36-15 with the Skeeters ahead. Meyers fouled Adamo and Scrill and they converted the shots. Then Adamo tallied from the floor three times in a row, all of his shots being of the spectacular variety. Husta dropped one in for Kingston and Stanton fouled to make the score 36-18. Spahn cut the cords from scrimmage and so did Meyers, but his two points were overcome by fouls converted by Frankel and Benson.

State Investigates Alleged Race Track And Tipster Racket

Ballston, Spa, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP).—A member of the state racing commission and investigators of the anti-racket bureau were called before a Saratoga county grand jury today as New York state pressed its investigation into alleged racetrack racketeering and fake "tipster" services.

John Sloan, one of the three members of the racing commission, was asked to appear before the grand jury after he declared recently that persons attending race meets needed protection from gangsters and other objectionable characters who, he said, flocked to the various tracks.

Thomas F. Ward, chief investigator of the racketeers bureau under Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr., is seeking indictments against about 40 racing racketeers, believed responsible for spreading fake tips on races. The racketeers, Ward said, claim that certain races are "fixed" and offer the name of the "winner" to their clients for a fee.

The hearing was adjourned last Friday after Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman, and John Hay Whitney, a member of the state racing commission, conferred for two hours behind closed doors with members of the grand jury.

Postal Authorities Interested.

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP).—The horse race "tipster" racket now under investigation in New York long has been a thorn in the side of the postal authorities.

The job of forcing to cover the purveyor of "information" on the races who uses the mails is one of the most difficult the postal authorities have to handle, says Kildroy P. Aldrich, stock, pleasant-faced chief of the postal inspectors.

Unwillingness of the "suckers" milked by the racketeers to give testimony for the government, and legal obstacles in the way of obtaining convictions contribute toward a knotty problem for the government when it sets out to close mails to the racket.

The "sport of kings" makes trouble in another way for the postal department's 550 inspectors throughout the country, because of many thousands of "sweepstakes" lottery tickets, many of them fakes, are sent through the mails each year. Convictions in such cases, however, are relatively easy.

"These rackets are centered principally in New York city and Chicago," Aldrich says, "and they have been an annoyance to the department for longer than I can remember."

"The Strange Case of Ted Key" Still Baffles

Amarillo, Texas, Nov. 7 (AP).—Football's serial mystery story—"The Strange Case of Ted Key"—was as baffling today as the famous question, "How old is Ann?"

However, Dean Earl Miller, sleuth for the University of California at Los Angeles, solved the mystery insofar as his football team is concerned with the exact analysis.

"I believe as I did last Saturday that our Ted Key is ineligible for football."

Meantime R. E. (Honest) I'm Ted Key remained out of sight on the U. C. L. A. campus. Friends said he was tired of answering questions as to whether he is "Honest Ted" or a cousin, Clark Key, who used to play a stellar game for the Texas School of Mines. Whereabouts of Clark also was a mystery.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP).—Here's more proof that the arrests aren't always the shakedown when they sometimes are accused of being when Gar Davidson, Army coach, was looking around for someone to replace Whitey Green, he spotted some fine work by Jack O'Connor in the "B" team's game against the Yale Junior Varsity. He jumped O'Connor right over a lot of players on the Varsity squad and made him first sub at right halfback.

On His Way to Twelfth World Championship

Chicago, Nov. 7 (AP).—In a setting of top hats, ermine coats, and boiled shirts that swished the game out of the old pool hall environment, Johnny Layton, the ex-carpenter of Sedalia, Mo., was on his way today to acquire his twelfth world's three-cushion billiard championship.

The Missouriian opened the world's championship tournament, which will run for two weeks, by defeating the tiny Japanese, Kinry Matsuyama, first of his nine challengers, 50 to 35 in 50 innings last night. He scored his victory on a new streamline table, covered with a purple cloth and supported by chromium legs.

Layton had a high rug of seven, to four for the Japanese invader. Today's schedule is: Allen Hall, St. Louis, vs. Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago; Welker Cochran, San Francisco, vs. Otto Reinelt, Philadelphia; Willie Hoppe, New York, vs. Arthur Thurnwald, Chicago, and Dave Bozeman, Vallejo, Calif., vs. Cliff Denton, Kansas City.

First National Hockey League Game Tonight

New York, Nov. 7 (AP).—The National Hockey League opens its 1935-36 season at Chicago tonight with the Blackhawks and the New York Americans facing each other in the first game of a campaign that runs to the end of March. All eight teams on the circuit will see action by the middle of the month.

The revamped Americans jump to Toronto Saturday to start off the Maple Leafs, last season's league champions. On Sunday the New York Rangers and Detroit host the curtain in the Motor City.

Montreal's colorful flying Frenchmen, Les Canadiens, under new management of Sylvio Mantha, veteran defense player, play their first game of the season next Tuesday against the Rangers.

The last pair of teams to open are the Montreal Maroons, Stanley cup holders, and the Boston Bruins, who led the league's American division last season. They clash at Montreal November 16.

Tonight's opening clash sends one of the most changed teams in the circuit against a stand-pat array, the Blackhawks, who have only two new members. The Americans, under the management of the fiery Mervin (Red) Dutton, underwent a thorough overhauling during the summer, released two of their oldest players, Rabbit McVeigh and Normie Himes, and added three veteran forwards, a couple of youngsters and one defenseman to their roster.

With Big Nelo Stewart from Boston, Harold Cotton from Toronto and Carl Voss from St. Louis on the front line and another Bostonian, Joe Jervis, on defense, Dutton believes he has the strongest team ever to perform for the Amerks. Their pre-season games seem to bear out this contention.

Maroon Tackles Port Saturday

The Maroon and White plays its second DUSO game at Port Jervis this Saturday. The boys have had a week's layoff and should be in tip-top shape for this important tilt. If they can trim Port and Newburgh, there is still a chance for them to gain a tie for the DUSO league.

There will be no odds on either team as they take the field Saturday. Port dropped her first league game to Newburgh, 13-7, while the Maroon lost that heartbreaker to the Mid-dies 2-0. The game should be as tight as both teams know they must win it to stand a show in the circuit this year.

A bus load of K. H. S'ers will go to Port. The Athletic Association held a dime dance Monday to enable them to put a low price on the Port trip. Only a few seats are left on the bus.

Coach Kias will probably start the same lineup that opened the Middle

New Basketball Team Organized

The Men's Progressive Social Club of 77 Greenkill avenue is sponsoring a basketball team this year. They will play only road games. The outstanding players on the team are John Conroy and Burton Streeter, both members of the strong Battery A basketball team. Conroy will be at center while Streeter will play forward. Others players are Tom Houghtaling, forward; Hap Jones, Ralph Selam and Warren Wood, guards. Games are expected to be booked with Wallkill Prison, Green-ville, Hunter, Tannersville, CCC, Cairo, St. John of Cornwall, Pough-keepsie Reformed. The team captain will be John Conroy while Burton Streeter will be the booking manager. That team seems to be clicking, but the breaks have been against them. They hope to break that this Saturday.
